

Perhaps Charmaine's niece Yvonne wasn't the sharpest knife in the drawer but she was considerate, pretty, very popular, and always happy. One day Yvonne asked Charmaine to help her make some curtains.

Aunt Charmaine everyone says dat you're de best at sewing. I wanta make dese curtains myself but I want your advice," Yvonne said.

"Sure Yvonne, no problem - first you gotta pick out de material," Charmaine said.

"Already done dat," Yvonne said and pulled out a bolt of cloth.

Charmaine examined the cloth. "Oh yes, dis will do fine," she said, "Next you gotta pick out a design."

"I got a picture of what I want. Will dis do?" Yvonne asked and handed Charmaine a picture torn from a magazine.

Charmaine considered the picture. "Dis is good - we can do dis easy," she said, "Now we gotta get some measurements."

"I already done dat too - it's 15 inches each way," Yvonne said.

"You sure 'bout dat?" Charmaine asked, "Dats kinda little. What room dese curtains for?"

"Oh, dese aint for the house," Yvonne explained, "Dey is for my computer monitor."

"Computers don't need curtains," Charmaine explained.

"Mine does," Yvonne stated, "It's got Windows."
